BURGLAR SHOOTS
HIS VICTIM DEADPRESIDENT RAWN OF THE MON-ON ROAD INSTANTLY KILLED

NO CLUE TO MURDERER

A Second Shooting by Thief Occurred In Which Woman Is Injured.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Chicago, July 20.—Ira G. Rawn, president of the Monon road was shot through the heart and instantly killed early this morning by a burglar who entered his summer home in Waukeka, 15 miles north of Chicago.

Heard Burglar.

The burglar was heard prowling about the first floor by Rawn, who went down stairs to investigate. The members of his family heard him say, "What do you want here?" and two shots in succession were heard.

Found Dead.

When his family hurried to the first floor Rawn was lying dead at the foot of the stairs with a bullet through his heart. The murderer escaped.

Find Revolver.

A revolver with one empty cartridge was found near Rawn's body. No trace of the second bullet could be found and the police believe Rawn wounded his assailant.

Burglar Wounded.

This bullet is strengthened when the bullet found a trail of blood 100 feet along the stone walk east of the Rawn residence.

Who Shot First?

It is impossible to determine whether Rawn or the murderer fired the first shot. Although it is thought that Rawn fired just a second before the burglar, Rawn evidently fell where he stood when hit.

Searching For Negroes.

Practically the entire male population of the suburb has joined in the search for the fugitive. A number of negroes who have been terrorizing the town for a week, and who are suspected of having a knowledge of the crime, will be rounded up.

One Suspect.

One man was arrested as a suspect but was released immediately. The detective say indications are it was not an expert burglar who entered Rawn's home, and there are intimations the killing may have been the result of some other motive than robbery.

Another Burglar.

In another attempted burglary in Chicago, Max Kato Tomaru, age 21, was seriously wounded early today in a battle with a burglar whom she discovered in her bedroom.

Tried to Seize Man.

Miss Tomaru attempted to seize the man and then tried to get out of the room to give alarm. As she ran out the man fired two shots, one bullet lodging in her right shoulder. The man escaped.

Watertown, Wis., July 20.—Before the State Federation of Labor convention here today, Frank J. Weber, state organizer, submitted his annual report in which he opposes the organization of "boy scouts" in the schools, criticizes the use of the injunction in labor disputes and takes a pessimistic view of things in general. "The labor movement of our state represents not only those who have by membership declared their comradeship with us, but also the thousands of our fellow-workers of the state who by force of circumstances are not yet organized, but who hope and pray that our legislation may be wise and fruitful, and will likewise lighten the burden of those who produce the wealth of the state and nation." In regard to the labor injunction, he said: "The labor injunction is a judge-made law, thanks to President Taft, and the republican and democratic federal judges, and therefore not entitled to the respect of a liberty-loving people."

FACE TRIAL FOR STEALING BOILER FROM CHINAMAN

William Lennon and Henry Delaney, Arrested Last Night, Plead Not Guilty to Charge.

Charged with stealing, smashing and selling as junk a copper wash boiler valued at $18, belonging to Moy Sing, a Chinese laundryman, William Lennon and Henry Delaney, bakers, were arrested last night and when they appeared in municipal court this morning in answer to the charge, admitted that they had sold the article in question but denied that they had stolen it or knew at the time that it was stolen property. Upon their plea of not guilty, the case was continued until tomorrow morning at ten o'clock, to permit of further investigation and to allow the police to apprehend a partner, whom the prisoners claim, was the prime mover in the affair.

According to the story, Moy Sing discovered his loss during the noon hour yesterday but no trace was found of the boiler until late yesterday afternoon when Jacob Cohen, a junk dealer at 203 Riverside St., notified the police that he had purchased the article from Lennon and Delaney, giving them one dollar and promising to pay them the remainder of the purchase price, $1.09, today. The delayed payment was for the purpose of lulling suspicion until he could communicate with the police as the whole affair looked suspicious.

Search was immediately made for the two copper merchants by Officers Brown and Fauning who located them in the lower end of the North-Western freight yards. Delaney, whom he saw the brass buttons, started across country at top speed but came to a sudden stop when he heard a couple of "floxen" from Officer Fauning's magazine gun go hammering in close proximity to his legs. Lennon came into camp with Officer Brown without attempting any Marathon stunt.

Both asserted this morning that they did not steal the boiler, that another turned the trick and that they simply helped by selling it as junk in order to get in on the proceeds. Both stated this morning that their partner's name was Otto Lenz but according to Officer Brown, Lennon gave the name as Nash last night. Lenz has been secured by the police and the affair will undoubtedly be unraveled tomorrow morning. In the meantime, Lennon and Delaney are being held under bonds of $100 each.

EDGERTON MAN IS REPORTED MISSING

Royal Parr, Aged Sixty-five, Disappeared Yesterday Afternoon and Can Not Be Located.

Edgerton, July 20.—Royal Parr, aged sixty-five, is missing, and can not be located. He was last seen Tuesday afternoon about two o'clock when he left the Hedden Lumber company's yards, where he was employed, and wandered down the railroad tracks towards the Rock river. He was reported as seen at the bridge over the river about three o'clock and also west of the city and a mile north of the city, but all those clues seem to be poor ones. The searchers are looking in the river below the city, believing Parr has drowned. It is remembered that fifteen years ago his father either drowned accidentally or committed suicide about the same place. Parr was married and has a wife and a daughter, Mrs. Ruth Lander, of this city, and a second daughter, Miss Jane Parr of Rockford.

NEGRO'S VICTIM IS RECOVERING

Charles Levinski Almost Well But No Trace of McKeever Has Been Found.

Charles Levinski, who was stabbed and robbed Saturday night by Charles McKeever, a Chicago negro, is recovering rapidly but up to the present time no trace has been found of his assailant. It is now thought that McKeever succeeded in secreting himself in the buggy's number yard and made his escape after the police left the scene. Several persons residing along the North-Western tracks in the northeastern part of the city, claim to have seen a negro hurrying along the tracks early Sunday morning and it is believed that this was McKeever. The police think that the robber will be captured ultimately as he will doubtless return to his haunts in Chicago and fall into the hands of the police there.

OLD LANDMARK WAS DESTROYED BY FIRE

Farm House on Pierce Farm, Near Evansville, Once a Postoffice, Burned Yesterday Afternoon.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]

Evansville, July 20.—The house on the old Pierce farm, three miles east of Evansville, on the Janesville road, was burned to the ground yesterday afternoon. The fire started about four o'clock in one of the partitions of the house, where there was a chimney, and the flames gained such rapid headway that it was impossible to save the building. John Montgomery and family, who occupied the house, escaped unharmed and managed to save a part of the furniture and some of their clothing.

The house was an old landmark. It was built seventy years ago and fifty-five years ago was used as a post office. It was then known as the Osborne post office and Charles Stokes, father of Mrs. Frank Franklin and Mrs. Eugene Butts of Evansville, was postmaster. Twenty-five years ago it was owned by Balnes and Green, who used it for stock raising, and it was known as the Evansville stock farm. F. J. Phure of Stoughton is the present owner.

The total loss is about a thousand dollars, partially covered by insurance.

NEW USE FOR FRANKS.

Ten years ago the Milwaukee Free Press came into existence as a purely political organ for the radical republicans of the state. For many years it followed blindly the lead of the "Master," and then it awoke to the fact that all is not gold that glitters, and changed its opinion of life and politics generally. Today it is as conservative a newspaper as any in the state and doing all it can to undo the work accomplished under the mistaken idea of reform in past years. It now takes up the question of Senator La Follette and his use of his senatorial frank, and says:

"Senator La Follette announces in his weekly newspaper that he will tell the truth about the postal deficit and suggest the remedies. The postoffice department is conducted at an enormous loss, he says, and it is a matter that comes directly home to every citizen, 'who has to dig down in his pocket to pay his share of that $17,000,000 loss.' There is a world reason for it, 'one not pleasant to tell about it,' but the same issue of his newspaper, the senator announces that every subscriber to La Follette's Weekly will receive a copy of Senator Bourne's speech on Oregon's experience with progressive legislation. It is sent to the paper's subscribers under Senator La Follette's frank at the expense of the postoffice department, without expense to himself or his newspaper."

"This is opening up a new line of congressional graft with possibilities almost beyond the reach of the imagination. If other senators and representatives follow Mr. La Follette's example, Congressmen need only arrange with friendly newspapers and all the speeches which now adorn the congressional record may be unloaded on newspaper subscribers, and circulated at government expense. The postal deficit would soon reach now and unthought-of altitudes."

"We have always been told that at least one of the chief causes of the postal deficit was the abuse of the franking privilege, and we are afraid that the Wisconsin senator, while he may write and talk about the causes of it, has himself opened up a new channel for unprincipled raids on the treasury. We can only imagine what a speech he might have made in congress. If Senator Aldrich or Speaker Cannon had first made use of their congressional franks to circulate their speeches as newspaper preprintings at the expense of the postoffice department."

WHY DOES A HEN?

An exchange brings up the old question, "Why does a hen cross the road?" only it uses it in a variegated form. It states that various theories are entertained among automobile drivers and people who ride in autos with regard to the tendency of the hen to permit itself to be chased by the machine rather than to escape it by turning to the right or to the left. Some of these theories are quite plausible, but none is entirely satisfactory. Close observers of the hen have noted that a woman wearing a checked gingham apron is alone capable of shooting a hen in the direction that it is desirable that the hen shall take, and that the more a man strives to shoot the hen in any direction, the more determined and successful are his efforts to escape through his outstretched legs.

One able writer on the mistake of the hen in running ahead of the automobile undertakes to account for it by holding that the hen assumes that the people in the machine have come all the way from the city for the sole purpose of trying to catch her, and she has never previously been caught in this manner, and is doubtful regarding the sensation that would follow her capture, she makes up her mind on the impulse of the moment to give the city people in the auto a run for their money.

Now, this theory on its face seems reasonable enough. So does the theory that the hen prefers to keep in front of the automobile to avoid the odor of the gasoline. But the real explanation of her apparent eccentricity, as the reader perhaps has already suspected, is that the hen regards the automobile as some new kind of man and expects him to spread his legs as usual and let her pass through. Of course, in this the hen is mistaken, but that is not so much her fault as it is the fault of the constructor of the machine, who might have designed it so that when engaged in a hen chase the hen could pass through an opening in the middle of it to the rear. Either the auto should be changed to meet this exigency, or it should display in front, when travelling through country roads, a checked gingham apron. At the appearance of this signal the average hen would collect her thoughts before the auto got too close and make tracks toward her coop.

OLD GLORY.

Since the foundation of our government the national flag has been changed in form no less than twenty-three times. These changes have been mainly, of course, in the number and arrangement of the stars, but there have been two important changes in the stripes. Originally, as everybody knows, they were thirteen, thereby representing the thirteen colonies. The stars were also at the beginning thirteen in number. With the admittance of two states the stars and stripes were each increased in number to fifteen. The stripes were soon after, however, fixed at thirteen, and there has been no departure since from this number. The stars have changed in number notwithstanding to twenty, to twenty-one, to twenty-three, by ones to twenty-six, to twenty-eight, by ones to thirty-eight, to forty-three and by ones to forty-six. The number is now to be increased to forty-eight, and many insist that this is the end of the changes. They hold, since there are no more territories to be admitted as states, the flag must be considered finished.

Yet Alaska, though non-contiguous, is a territory, and, moreover, prolific in surprises as well as in possibilities. When all is said, we know very little yet about this vast domain or what may be done for it through the process of modern development. Some day in the not too distant future it may ask for representation among the stars of our flag. Then, again, there is Porto Rico and there is Hawaii already entertaining, and fondly cherishing, the thought that they may some day become states of the union. We have not reached the point where we can say that in the making of the nation all is done.

The contest for district attorney promises to be a merry one—but devoid of that partisanship which makes it necessary to throw mud and cause unpleasantness between the candidates and their friends. Both Mr. Dunwiddie and Mr. Henningsway are gentlemen and it is hoped that they will not have to resort to this kind of billingsgate warfare. Throughout the county the many friends of the late Judge Dunwiddie are flocking to the support of his son, and the prospects for his nomination grow brighter each week.

It is becoming almost an impossibility to secure signatures to the nomination papers for various candidates so many papers are in circulation. What an improvement upon the old caucus and convention system! In those days men took on active interest in politics and today it is a business all by itself this securing names for candidates, and a good one, thanably, for the paid workers.

The summer capital of Wisconsin is at Lake Regatta. If all the visitors to the home of Governor Davidson at this pretty lake go to talk politics they will find that the scenery and the air and the sparkling waters will drive the most cherished plans out of their heads. It beats Beverly or Oyster Bay for scenery and is right here at home, too.

Wallace Ingalls of Racine, who is Cooper's opponent in the republican congressional race, feels certain that when the voters of the district understand this campaign is Taft and anti-Taft, not personal state politics, they will view Cooper's candidacy in a different light from what they do now.

Caruso is much more of a success in the role of the stage lover than he is in actual life. The disclosures of his trial marriage has taken some of the phases of the monkey house episode.

Roosevelt's nephew is to try for a seat in congress. If he is successful then son-in-law Longworth will have the strain somewhat relieved.

(Copyright, 1909, by George Matthew Adams.)

You are wasting your lives! Like the bees in their hives you work for the large olive wheel; and GOOD you stick to the job till ADVICE your nerves are stretched, and life is run down at the wheel. With malling have done! Get out in the sun and take from Dame Nature a full; if your future seems dark, chase yourself to the park, and look at the follows play ball. I used to be tied to a desk, weary and ill, and longed for release from life; but I anchored my hope to the horse doctor's dope, and filled up my inwards with pills. Then a friend came along—he was forceful and strong, and he carried me off, grinch and all, and I roared as the boys on the diamond played ball. Now I'd think it shame if I should miss a game and I go at my labors with vim; and my liver all right, and my nerves are a sight, and the dope is no more in the swim. When you're feeling too old and all covered with mold, and your picture seems turned to the wall, hire a fly-er sharp and go out to the park, and look at the follows play ball!

TO A FATHER.

You say Jimmie is twelve. Then it is high time, if you have not already done so, to become Jimmie's chum.

It was all right for his mother to have charge of him so long as he was more baby than boy. He could tell her everything, and she could help him in everything. She knew where he was and what he was doing.

It is different now. He is big enough to be called "James," and secretly he yearns for long trousers. Unconsciously, maybe, but surely, he is tugging to get loose from his mother's apron strings.

He begins to be a man.

This is your opportunity to get close to him. Jimmie wants a mate to talk to and confide in. You can be that mate if you want to be.

Jimmie would rather be your sworn pal than to take up with any other person on earth. It would please him mightily.

The danger is this:

He may become either ashamed or afraid to confide in you. And if he is either he may consult some harum scarum of the street.

Some fathers, altogether too dignified or stern, proceed on the theory that the son must recognize the parental authority, and they lay down the law and punish the least infraction of it. They believe that will keep the boy straight.

It will doubtless keep him from wrongdoing—where it can be found out.

You see, the danger is that Jimmie, being afraid of you, may become a sneak. He will not tell you the truth. He will deceive you. And Jimmie is likely to become not only a sneak, but also a liar.

If Jimmie is ashamed to tell you about some things he may do things of which he ought to be ashamed.

My dear sir, you may so have the confidence of your son that he will tell you everything—everything! Nothing is too delicate for father and son to discuss—if they are chums.

Jimmie must know from some source the things you know about life. How much better you should tell him than some other! Do you want your boy to face temptations ignorantly or wrongly instructed?

What are you in the world for anyway?

To make money for Jimmie?

No!

You are in the world to help your boy make a man of himself—a man as good as you are or better.

For that are you a father.

And if Jimmie fails to make a good man will largely be your fault and your shame. But if he succeeds? Why, that will be the joy and triumph of your life.

Revenge.

Broadway Becomes Howling Mob

When Aviator Makes Night Trip.

New York, July 20.—The first trip after dark over New York in a flying machine of any kind was made last night by Frank Goodale, the boy aviator, who came from Palisade Park, N. J. The aviator set a large part of the population of the upper part of Manhattan hysterical. He turned Broadway into a howling, enthusiastic mob, every cafe and restaurant was emptied. Cars were stopped, the streets blocked and the roofs packed. Over them all and twice around the Times tower the man, in a dirigible about fifty feet long, circled twice and then returned to Jersey.

The Continental hotel, in the same block, was saved by the fire wall, but the guests hurriedly vacated their rooms. The loss is fully covered by insurance.

STOCKHOLDERS' MEETING

Held Yesterday and Much of the Stock Was Represented in Person or by Proxy—Important Decision Reached.

At the special meeting of the stockholders of the JANESEVILLE street railway company held pursuant to notice at the office of Thos. S. Nolan, 315-313 Jackson building, yesterday afternoon, three hundred and eighty-seven (387) shares out of a total of five hundred (500) shares of the capital stock of the company were represented, either in the person of the owner or by proxy. The meeting was called for the purpose of considering and acting upon a proposition that the stockholders consent that a sale on the foreclosure judgment rendered in favor of the Finance company of Pennsylvania, against the company, April 5, 1910, might be made earlier than one year from that date. The proposition was discussed quite fully, it appears that the trustees and the owners of all the bonds of the company have stated in writing that they are in favor of an early sale, provided the stockholders of the JANESEVILLE street railway company would also consent. According to the law, a sale on the judgment of foreclosure could not be had prior to one year and six weeks after April 5, 1910, unless all the parties interested consent in writing that it might be held earlier.

A resolution was introduced authorizing the president and secretary of the JANESEVILLE street railway company to sign a stipulation consenting that sale on the judgment of foreclosure may be made earlier than one year from the date of the judgment, with the understanding, however, that notice of the sale should be given by publication and the posting of notice, for at least six weeks. This resolution was unanimously adopted, it was understood that publication of the necessary notice would begin soon.

Quite a number of the stockholders were not present at the meeting, but so far as can be learned from personal interviews, none of them are opposed to an early sale of the property. There will then be no obstacle to the complete rehabilitation of the street railway.

It must be admitted, however, that the bondholders have treated the public very fairly. They consented that the receivers might borrow ten thousand dollars to make necessary repairs, and that the certificates issued for this loan might be paid first out of the proceeds arising from the sale of the property. A part of the proceeds of this loan has been used on Washington street, and yesterday about six tons of copper wire, to be used for new overhead work, two carloads of poles, and two carloads of insulators, arrived here, and are being unloaded today at the street car barns. The copper wire is of the same size as that used for overhead construction by the Rockford & Interurban railway company. The poles will all have to be shaved, which will take some time, but the receivers say that it will not be long before the work on the overhead construction will begin. All the material for the work is now here.

FLOUR PRICES ARE AD-VANCING STEADILY.

Orders On Jersey Lily Booked Today
and After Raised
To $1.60.

On all orders for Jersey Lily Fancy patent flour, from today at the price will advance to $1.60 per sack. You will remember it was stated some few days ago in these columns that the price would advance, yet even the slight raise to $1.50 is not as heavy a figure as is being asked for other brands than Jersey Lily in many of the stores. The wholesale price of flour today is $6.30 per bushel, a raise of $1.05. Since Miss Ross started her campaign in the interest of Jersey Lily flour, the price has been kept down to $1.50 per sack and all orders which have been given up to today, July 20th, if delivered to you prior to August 1st will be charged at the low price of $1.50 per sack. After August 1st however, the price advances with the market. A word to hurry in your order for Jersey Lily flour to your favorite grocer is not amiss. You can have money by so doing.

TELEGRAM SAYS,
"SLAY REBELS"

MADRIZ ORDERS ALL PRISONERS SHOT WITHOUT A TRIAL.

SENDS ORDER TO COMMANDER

Telegram of Nicaraguan Successor to Zelaya, Intercepted by Revolutionists and Sent to State Department.

50 CENTS

New Orleans, July 20.—General Estrada, president of the Nicaraguan provisional government, has sent to Colonel General Simeon, in this city, an intercepted telegram sent by Jose Madriz, chairman to the Nicaraguan presidency, to Gen. Roberto Gonzalez, commander of the Madriz forces at San Salvador.

No Trial for Prisoners.

It instructs General Gonzalez to shoot without trial all rebels and prisoners that are taken by his men. The telegram which caused a thrill of horror through Central America is as follows:

"Campo Del Marti, Managua.—To Gen. Roberto Gonzalez, San Salvador: I trust into your hands the salvation of the fatherland giving a severe lesson to the revolutionaries which are in that neighborhood. Shoot without fear or consideration the revolutionaries which you may capture by attack and prisoners which you may have. Give orders to leaders of your patrols to watch. There is danger on the road from San Salvador to Acayapa.

"Signed, Madriz, commanding general."

Two Rebels Are Shot.

The telegram has been forwarded to the state department and will be referred to the peace conference at The Hague. The telegram was captured by Gen. Luis Mena of the revolutionaries, who reports on the day it was received by Gonzalez two revolutionaries were shot at Chureo Muerto. The same day 15 prisoners taken by Estrada were released.

EX-SENATOR, HELD DEAD, JESTS.

Thomas W. Palmer, 81 Years Old, Recovered From Detroit Auto Crash.

Detroit, Mich., July 20.—Former Senator Thomas W. Palmer of Detroit was given up for dead by his physician after an automobile accident, but an hour later he was able to tell newspapermen the story of his mishap. Mr. Palmer's head was wrapped in bandages. He had sustained a scalp wound six inches long, his physician said. His breast was bruised by flying parts of his smashed car, and his right leg was jammed so that he could hardly stand upon it. He insisted on limping out to meet his callers, however.

Mr. Palmer was returning in his touring car from Birmingham with a friend. The trolley tracks cross the road at an angle at the city limits. The chauffeur did not notice a car approaching and was just a moment too late in crossing. The auto was struck in the rear and smashed. Senator Palmer was thrown to the pavement, striking on his head.

FAIRBANKS TALKS TO AD. MEN.

Former Vice-President is "Arrested" by Joking Delegates.

Omaha, Neb., July 20.—"Men who will wantonly and maliciously assault our public servants, no matter what their politics, if they are faithful to public duty, are traitors to the state," said Charles W. Fairbanks in an address before the Advertising Clubs of America.

The delegates took great liberties with Mr. Fairbanks when they had the ex-vice-president arrested and in the police patrol, started ostensibly for the city jail, but instead carried him to the Field club, where he was the guest of honor at a luncheon, which had been prepared for him.

Mr. Fairbanks protested vigorously against the arrest, and it was not until the patrol drew up at the Field club that he detected the joke. He then laughed heartily over the whole affair.

DEMANDS $5,000 FOR LYNCHING.

Newark Mob Victim's Administrator Asks County to Pay.

Newark, O., July 20.—George Rohon, president of the Mercer National bank of Harrodsburg, Ky., and administrator of the estate of Carl Etherington, the anti-slavery detective lynched here on July 8, made formal demand upon the Licking county authorities for the $5,000 damages authorized by the state to be paid by the county to the estate of persons lynched. Rohon stated that he would bring suit in the federal court for $40,000 damages against former Sheriff Linke and his bondsmen.

Verneuil-les-Bains, France, July 20.—A man answering the description of Doctor Crippen arrived here Sunday night. He left almost immediately for Spain. The police failed to arrest him without a warrant.

England Asks for Crippen's Arrest.

Washington, July 20.—The British government has asked the United States to arrest and detain Dr. H. H. Crippen wanted in London in connection with the murder of his wife, should he be found in America.

OREGON G. O. P. WILL ASSEMBLE TOMORROW

Convention Called At Portland To Formulate Platform And Recommended a Ticket.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Portland, Ore., July 20.—The political situation in Oregon is already very interesting, but it promises to be much so after the State "assembly" or Republicans meet in this city tomorrow. The purpose of the assembly is to formulate and adopt a party platform and to recommend to the Republican voters of the State a ticket for State congressional and judicial officers to be nominated at the September primaries.

Those responsible for the "assembly" plan confidently declare that every county of the State will be represented at tomorrow's gathering. They declare, furthermore, that the assembly will be representative of the Republican party of Oregon in every sense of the word and that the ticket recommended by the assembly will undoubtedly be nominated at the primaries.

Despite these declarations a strong opposition to the "assembly" undoubtedly exists among many influential Republican leaders throughout the State. They declare that the whole scheme is contrary to the spirit and intention of the direct primary law and is a bare-faced attempt on the part of the faction led by former Senator Joseph Simon to maintain control of the party machinery and defeat the will of the rank and file of Oregon Republicans.

Interest in the situation is heightened by the fact that Oregon this year elects a complete set of State officers from governor down, together with our judges of the supreme court, representatives in congress and members of the legislature.

Attention naturally centers upon the contest for the governorship, which office is now filled by Secretary of State Frank W. Benson, because of the election of Governor Chamberlain to the United States senate. Several names are mentioned in connection with the assembly's choice for the head of the ticket. Dr. Andrew C. Smith, a leading physician of Portland and a former member of the State senate, is an avowed candidate for the endorsement and it is understood that his nomination would be satisfactory to Simon and other Republican leaders who are bucking the assembly plan.

Advertising is an insurance policy against forgetfulness. It compels people to think of you.

WOMAN'S PAGE

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

TO BE able to give gracefully is a rather unusual talent. But to be able to receive gracefully is an infinitely rarer one.

The childish and prolonged squabbles we hear so often in street cars over the payment of fares are an excellent example of the inability of many of us to accept a favor simply and gracefully.

To protest and make much fuss and feathers about receiving a favor seems to be the popular idea of gratitude.

As a matter of fact, it is extremely bad taste to protest a favor that you know in your heart you will accept in the end. Accept promptly and simply. Say "Thank you" in the prettiest and most gracious way that you know how, but with as little fuss and feathers as possible, and you honor your benefactor far more than by going through a rigmarole of protest.

I had the pleasure of meeting the other day a well-known woman of whose brilliance and charm I had long heard, and the thing which impressed me about her, even more than her witty conversation and her beauty, was the perfect graciousness and simplicity with which she accepted it when another member of the party offered her a more comfortable chair.

There is, of course, such a thing as the self-worship which accepts all favors simply and unprotectingly just because it looks upon them as tribute due.

But I do not mean that kind of simplicity. I mean the kind that seems to say, "You wish to do me a kindness. I thank you, I will try to honor you by accepting it as graciously as you give it, and some day I shall hope to have my turn at being donor."

The graciousness and happiness of giving is not a moral fiction. It is a live fact. To balk it by an ungenerous reception is selfishness therefore.

I once knew a girl who for many years received an unusually good salary as a stenographer and had been lavishly generous with her earnings, doing good in every direction, and enjoying to the full the blosoming of giving. Her health gave way and she had to give up her position and go back to her home in the country.

Some of her friends and office mates, thinking it was a good opportunity to do by her as she had done by others, got together and made up a purse which they planned to give to her on her departure.

And she who had been indulging for years in the joy of giving refused to help others to do the same happiness.

She indignantly refused the purse, saying that when she needed charity she would ask for it.

For, like many others, though postmistress in the art of gracious giving, she did not know the A, B, C of the art of receiving.

Just as it is far easier to look down upon anyone with dignity than to look up and still be dignified, so it is far easier to give with graciousness than to receive.

But as he who has the true dignity may maintain it, no matter how often the accident of height forces him to look up, so he who has the true graciousness may maintain it no matter how constantly the accident of position and possessions forces him to give rather than to receive.

KEEPING YOUNG.

BY MARY RUSSELL.
There are many who profess to deplore the passing of the old women and men of the story books.

The snowy-capped women who sat in a corner and clicked the knitting needles to the tune of their own sad thoughts belong to the dark ages.

They are relics of the days when women toiled and spun and kept to the sorrowful path of duty, unlightened by the real joys of living.

The changes made by time seem a sacrifice to those who remember lovely old grandmothers, who wore snow-white caps and were clothed in a sweet sanctity as the delicate and evanescent as the odor of rose leaves in the old rose garden.

In their places we see the upright, alert woman with white hair, which is done modishly in puffs and curls and is surmounted by a picture hat. The garments that go with the hat might as suitably clothe the young daughters of the house. As suitably, but not more suitably. There is no reason why a woman should paste a label on her back because she has reached an age when she may exceed her own judgment without let or hindrance from those who minded her as long as she was young and rosy. This woman of the white hair can manage her own affairs. She has not allowed her faculties to rust. She may not read the bibles so assiduously, but she is well posted on the literature of the day. She is a live wire and full of a joyous interest in the age in which she lives. She has standards of comparison with a day gone by which she uses wholly, but not as a measure of reprobation. She knows the world is progressing. She feels that it is better than it was when she was young. She regrets that her mother did not have the opportunity that are hers. She has no longing for cap and knitting needles.

Life is as full of interest for her as for her granddaughter, who shares her fun with mother and grandmother without any discrimination or age limit.

The portly old man of "the good old times," who climbed upon the shelf at 65 to revel in old stories, to which no one listened, and to long silent smokes, and ruminating hours of listless loafing, has slipped from the scene of life. In his place is the maturing gentleman in white ducks who plays golf with his grandson—and beats him, too—and goes down to his office and keeps a master hand on the business long after his father's father, who had retired from active life, is gone.

It is good! The writers of the works for the old days and the carefully preserved ancestor are amusing. They detail the charm of the quaint old woman in the village who is fine and dainty and to whom they slip on holidays for rest. They never remember that rest which they save for emergencies, is the rest of冗余 all the days of the year for the fine old gentlewoman. If mother had been taken to the city to live among the rapidly moving kaleidoscope of the daily life there, she would not now be asking, "How long, oh, Lord?"

Don't lie till you are dead. This means more than just putting wood together. It should be a work of art and selection should be made from a comprehensive stock of frame mouldings such as we carry.

Let us do the work for you in an artistic manner. See our beautiful line of modern mouldings and beautiful frames—all prices.

The great volume of advertising carried in these columns is due to the great circulation of The Gazette, 6300 homes receive The Gazette daily and from this large number of homes many people are looking for just the things advertised each day.

Health foods and sanatoriums will not do half that a fine indomitable spirit and interest in life will accomplish.

For the sale of the next generation, refuse to grow old. Be too lively to photograph in the sautin-like pose of the story book woman or man, and your reward will be in your own hand.

LACE COAT.

Here is an idea for the girl who is clever with her crochet needle. The above waist is soft white chiffon, with a deep belt of black satin, matching the wide bands on sleeves. The little coat opening over this blouse is of hand-crochet lace. Frills of fine white lace finish neck and cuffs.

BUCKS STOVE AND RANGE COMPANY IS UNIONIZED

St. Louis Concern That Waged Four-Year Fight on Gompers, Signs Up.

Cincinnati, July 20.—At a conference held here between representatives of the Bucks Stove & Range company of St. Louis and of several unions the matters in dispute were settled and written agreements were entered into. The stove plant will be a union shop. President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor came to Cincinnati and presided at the meeting which resulted in the settlement.

James W. Van Cleve, head of the Bucks company and former president of the National Association of Manufacturers, died May 16 last, after six years of incessant warfare against the Federation of Labor. His friends attributed his death, after six months' illness, to the strain of the fight he had waged since 1905 with union labor, which he had once described as a "muscle trust."

In the course of that fight he had obtained an injunction from the Supreme court of the District of Columbia, forbidding the federation to boycott his company or to print its name in the "unfair list" in the Federationist, the organ of the Gompers organization. For violating that injunction Judge Wright imposed a sentence of one year's imprisonment on Gompers, one of six months on Secretary Frank Morrison and one of nine months on John Mitchell.

The settlement of the differences between the company and the federation will not affect the case pending in the Supreme court, and that trial next winter is expected to pass on the question of whether the courts below violated freedom of speech or whether the labor men offended against law and order.

WISCONSIN F. OF L. IN SESSION.

Mayor of Watertown Delivers Welcoming Address to Convention.

Watertown, Wis., July 20.—William Kaufman of Kenosha, chairman of the executive board, called to order today the convention of the Wisconsin State Federation of Labor in the city hall. The mayor delivered a welcoming address and was followed by Frank J. Weber of Milwaukee, the general organizer. As usual, the convention will last four days.

The most important work before the federation is the formulation of the demands to be made upon the state legislature at Madison next winter. Foremost of these will be that for an industrial accident compensation act. The local committee has arranged for a mass meeting which will be addressed by Mayor Seldel of Milwaukee, and has made plans for the entertainment of the delegates. Edwin Wright of the Illinois Federation is here to invite the Wisconsin body to participate in a joint meeting of state federations which will be held in Springfield, Ill., in October.

treating symptoms with medicine is not as practical as the Chiropractic ad-every function and every organ of the entire human system and every nerve 200,000,000 in all passes through the spine.

In fact, certain nerves do not perform their functions until they become sick. The way to remove the cause of the sickness is to get at the nerves that are not working.
This is done by Chiropractic adjustments of the spine. Almost every ailment is curable

$200,000.00 was to be appropriated for me by the Dept. of Justice in prosecuting offenders against the Sherman Anti-Trust law, which is intended to protect men at work, whether they be working with hands, heads, or both.Protect them from "combinations and conspiracies in restraint of trade."That means combinations of men who conspire to prevent other men from earning a living.Two or three large oil companies might "combine and conspire" to freeze out a small dealer.He has a right to conduct a business and earn a living for his family, and should have protection from "combinations" which "conspire" to ruin him.

It also applies to "combinations"

of workers who "conspire" to drive the leaders of the Labor Trust in their manipulation of men seeking to drive them into fee-paying slavery?The 28,000,000 workers, not members of the trust, object to being driven from work, or having R. R. trains stopped with all the far-reaching losses, or the street cars stopped and men and women prevented from getting to and from work, or factories struck and perhaps destroyed, the weekly pay roll stopped and the subsequent loss of at least part and perhaps all of a community withdrawn.The great Philadelphia street car strike was forced by the big Labor Trust, not on account of wages and hours but to throw out about 4,000 men who had their own union, a peaceable one.These men did not want to pay fees to the trust leaders and be subject to their whims so they formed their own union for self protection. Thereupon the big trust called a strike, blew up and burned cars, attacked and slaughtered men, kept people from getting to and from work forced their other slaves to quit work and cost the people of Phil. several million dollars and suffering and inconvenience solely for the purpose of "showing" the power of the Labor Trust to "force" people to "obey" and force these independent men to join the trust, "shay" and pay fees to the leaders.

One illustration will suffice:

On June 22nd, 1910, the N. Y. Building Trades Council (part of the Labor Trust) declared a strike of all trades on a 12-story building at 35th and 6th Ave., because of the employment of members of an electrical union, not members of the trust. Work on the entire building was stopped.The Secy of the "trust" said that general strikes would be ordered on every building where the "treacherous electricians" are employed.These electricians belong to a union formed under the arbitration plan some time ago and kept their jobs. The employers afterward contracted under pressure, with the big trust and were told to and did order the independent union to join the Labor Trust. The men refused because they did not like the trust methods of coercion, bullying, slugging and general violence.This is only one illustration of hundreds of cases where the trust
"compires in restraint of trade."That is, by combination they conspire to and do stop work, interfere with industry and prevent men from earning a living unless they pay fees to the trust leaders.There is perhaps never one single day in the year but what the Labor Trust is engaged somewhere in America in "restraining trade," preventing men from working and stopping the flow of industry. No trust in this country breaks the law one-tenth as many times, or takes the bread from men's mouths as frequently as the Labor Trust.

No trust has ever "restrained"

such volumes of work or stopped the payment of so much money.

No trust has maligned and killed so many men or blown up and destroyed

so much property and yet the attorney-general has been held back from prosecution for some unexplained reason.

What does a workingman care about the prosecution of the oil trust when the big labor trust keeps him out of work every now and then?Suppose you write Pres. Taft and ask why the Atty. Gen't does not prosecute the people against the biggest and most hurtful trust we have.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Daily Gazette, July 20, 1870.—Base Ball.—The Potter Palmers of Chicago defeated by the Mutuals—Score 53 to 14.—The game yesterday failed to attract a very large crowd; it was somewhat owing to the heat, but more to the fact that whenever our boys have advertised a "Chicago" club, the opinion has prevailed in the minds of the public, that the Mutuals would be defeated, and out of respect and sympathy they had for the Mutuals they remained away altogether.

The playing of the Mutuals was excellent. Leneghan caught in splendid style, not letting a ball pass him during the entire game. Hulse pitched so well that the visitors could do nothing at all with him. Heller at first, Conant at left field, Blenkett at short, and in fact every member of the nine played in the best possible manner.

The hitting was terrible; both Heller and F. Smith succeeded in making a clean home run, and third base hit were common occurrences. On the part of the Potter Palmers, their fielding was fair but their batting weak. The score at the end of six innings stood 53 to 14 in favor of our boys and in order to enable the visitors to leave for Madison at 7:20 the game was called at this time.

Jottings.—Hulse, the pitcher for the Mutuals, walked ten miles yesterday, to be able to be present at the game with the Chicago club.

The attendance at the Rusden concert, last evening, was extremely light, owing, partially, to the threatening weather.

The performance was fully equal to that of the night before, and those who attended are abundantly satisfied. That the Association lost money by the enterprise can only be regretted.

Mr. Matthews, of the Potter Palmer baseball club, sprained his ankle yesterday, during their game with the Mutuals.

Mrs. Shulair of Mobile, Ala., is spending the summer with her daughter, Mrs. Henry Shuman.

Miss Rachel Jones, who is attending Institute in Janesville, was a week end visitor at the home of her friend, Miss Hubbard.

Miss Florence Darling spent Saturday and Sunday in Janesville.

Mrs. Henry Shuman and mother spent Sunday afternoon with Miss Orrie Murwin.

Virgil Pope of Janesville spent Sunday evening here.

FULTON.

Fulton, July 19.—Mr. and Mrs. Claude Monell of Chicago have been spending the past week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Murwin.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Roll entertained relatives from Edgerton Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Murwin and family left last week for a few weeks' visit with relatives in Walkerville, Ont. Carl Berg of Stoughton spent Sunday with Fulton relatives.

An ice cream social will be held on the church lawn on Friday evening of this week, July 22d.

Miss Ruth Bentley is entertaining her friend Miss Charlotte Thurston, of Edgerton this week.

PORTER.

Porter, July 18.—W.H. Thiebaud is attending summer school in Madison. He has obtained a position as teacher in the eighth grade of the graded school in Windsor, Idaho, to begin work in September.

Porter and Indian Ford will cross roads next Sunday afternoon on Robert Earle's farm. A spirited game is expected.

Miss Fanny Dooley is home again after a three weeks' stay in Janesville. Miss Katherine Nichols has accepted a position in the graded school in Janesville for the coming year.
